ABOUT NORMAH'S

Normah's was founded by Normah Abd Hamid in March 2015. It is an authentic and traditional Malaysian Restaurant. The Restaurant is situated inside the Queensway Market in between Queensway station and Bayswater Station in the Heart of Queensway, London.

A chance to cook for the family during the weekend in between her tied schedule giving her to display her skills and passion for cooking. Preparing home cooked meals for her children as a way of reminding them of home and relatives.

Normah's is very much Malaysian at heart. The aroma of rendang drift through the neighbor house intermingling with her curry laksa scent, her curious neighbor start popping up onto her background garden fence. Eating as much as ritual gathering people together and sharing it with others, as it is a human need she welcome her neighbor into her house and kitchen with an open arm. They love the food and she is happier to share her recipe. That's is when the idea of opening Normah's come into the picture.
